the second volume of collected woodcut graphic novels from a brilliant and iconoclastic author who has been compared to frank capra and john steinbeck jonathan lethem new york times bestselling author of the fortress of solitude in this the second of two volumes collecting all his woodcut novels the library of america brings together lynd ward's three later books two of them brief the visual equivalent of chamber music the other his longest a symphony in three movements prelude to a million years 1933 is a dark meditation on art inspiration and the disparity between the ideal and the real song without words 1936 a protest against the rise of european fascism asks if ours is a world still fit for the human soul vertigo 1937 ward's undisputed masterpiece is an epic novel on the theme of the individual caught in the downward spiral of a sinking american economy its characters include a young violinist her luckless fianc^o and an elderly business magnate who movingly and without ever becoming a political caricature embodies the social forces determining their fate the images reproduced in this volume are taken from prints pulled from the original woodblocks or first generation electrotypes ward s novels are presented for the first time since the 1930s in the format that the artist intended one image per right hand page and are followed by four essays in which he discusses the technical challenges of his craft art spiegelman contributes an introductory essay reading pictures that defines ward s towering achievement in that most demanding of graphic story forms the wordless novel in woodcuts the major american artist invented the concept of a wordless novel with this evocative text free woodcut narrative autobiographical in nature the novel recounts ward s struggles with his craft and with life in the 1920s the intricate woodcuts transcend all barriers of language and fresh details reward the eye with every review 139 black and white illustrations edited by art spiegelman author of the pulitzer prize winning graphic novel maus a wordless novel in woodcuts from lynd ward a pioneering artist novelist who was an unmistakable soul companion to frank capra and john steinbeck but also fritz lang and franz kafka jonathan lethem from the great depression to wii america s first great graphic novelist bore witness to the roiling dizzying national scene as both a master printmaker and a socially committed storyteller in this the first of two volumes collecting all his woodcut novels the library of america brings together lynd ward s earliest books published when the artist was still in his twenties god's man 1929 the audaciously ambitious work that made ward s reputation is a modern morality play an allegory of the deadly bargain a striving young artist often makes with life madman's drum 1930 a multigenerational saga worthy of faulkner traces the legacy of violence haunting a family whose stock in trade is human souls wild pilgrimage 1932 perhaps the most accomplished of these early books is a study in the brutalization of an american factory worker whose heart can still respond to beauty but whose mind is twisted in rage against the system and its shackles the images reproduced in this volume are taken from prints pulled from the original woodblocks or first generation electrotypes ward s novels are presented for the first time since the 1930s in the format that the artist intended one image per right hand page and are followed by five essays in which he discusses the technical challenges of his craft art spiegelman contributes an introductory essay reading pictures that defines ward s towering achievement in that most demanding of graphic story forms
